JOIN A MOVEMENT

UKSEDS is the UK’s national student space society. For more than 25 years we have supported students and space enthusiasts by running projects, organising events, and offering advice and resources. Our alumni now hold key roles thought the space community all over the world.

We have hundreds of members and dozens of affiliated university societies across the country, and we are a leading member of a student movement that stretches all over the globe.

LEARN NEW SKILLS

Learn new skills at hands-on workshops on everything from rocketry to astronomy, rocketry to science communication, compete in the National Rocketry Championships, and inspire the next generation as a member of our outreach team.

Network with potential employers at the National Student Space Conference, a high profile annual event whose sponsors include the UK Space Agency and Reaction Engines.

LAUNCH YOUR CAREER

Whether you’re looking to become an astronaut, an astrophysicist, or a space lawyer, we can give you tailored advice and put you in touch with the right people.

Find details of internships and grad schemes on our website, upload your CV to our CV Vault, and make vital connections at our events.
